Explanation

Words and figures inclosed in brackets [] are given for information, but do not appear on the title-pages of the publications catalogued. When size is not given, octavo is to be understood. Size of maps is measured from outer edge of border, excluding margin. The dates, including day, month, and year, given with Senate and House documents and reports, are the dates on which they were ordered to be printed. Usually the printing promptly follows the ordering, but various causes sometimes make delays. When Congress and session are not given with the numbers of Senate and House documents and reports, 61st Congress, 3d session, is to be understood.

General Information

The Superintendent of Documents is authorized to sell at cost any public document in his charge, the distribution of which is not otherwise provided for.

Documents can not be supplied by this Office free to individuals, nor can they be forwarded in advance of payment.

Documents entered in this catalogue that are for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., are indicated by a star (*) preceding the price named. A dagger (†) indicates that application should be made to the Department, Bureau, or Division issuing the document, a double dagger (‡) indicates that the document is not obtainable, and whenever additional information concerning the method of procuring a document seems necessary it will be found under the name of the Bureau. The Senate and House documents and reports are issued in limited editions, and unless otherwise indicated, may be obtained only through Members of Congress.

In ordering a publication from the Superintendent of Documents give the name of the issuing Department, Bureau, or Division, and title. If publication is numbered give number also. Do not order by Library of Congress card number.

The accumulation of publications in this Office amounts to over a million, of which several hundred thousand are assorted, forming the sales stock. Many rare books are included, but under the law all must be sold "at cost," regardless of their age or scarcity.

In ordering, it should be borne in mind that many of the books have been in stock some time and are apt to be shop-worn. In filling orders, however, the best copy available is sent.

No general price-list of public documents is available, but lists on special subjects will be furnished on application.

MONTHLY CATALOGUE DISTRIBUTION

The Monthly catalogue is sent to each Senator, Representative, Delegate, and officer in Congress, to designated depositories and State and Territorial libraries, to substantially all Government authors, and to as many school, college, and public libraries as the limited edition will supply.

Subscription price to individuals, $1.10 a year, including indices. Back numbers can not be supplied. Please notify the Superintendent of Documents of any change in address.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS CARDS

Numbers to be used in ordering the L. C. catalogue cards will be found at the end of the titles of the more important monographic documents. The figure following the card number (separated from it by a slanting line) indicates the number of cards required for entries suggested (title entry not included) on the cards. The price of the cards is 2c. for the first card and $\frac{7}{10}$c. for each additional card for the same title ordered at the same time. Remittances should be made to the Librarian of Congress. Cards can not be furnished by the Superintendent of Documents.

CUMULATIVE INDEX

Beginning with July, 1910, the Index to the Monthly catalogue will be issued separately each quarter and will cumulate for the twelve months ending June, 1911. That is, the September number of the Index is an index to the Monthly catalogue for July, August, and September, the December number will be an index to the Monthly catalogue for October to December, the March number will be an index to the Monthly catalogue for January to March, and the June number will be the Index for the fiscal year 1911. Persons desiring to bind the catalogue at the end of the year should be careful to retain the numbers received monthly, as duplicate numbers can not be supplied.

HOW TO REMIT

Remittances for the documents marked with a star (*) should be made to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., by postal money order, express order, or New York draft. Currency may be sent at sender's risk.

Postage stamps, foreign money, uncertified checks, defaced or smooth coins will positively not be accepted.

To facilitate the payment of the cost of documents, the Superintendent of Documents will hereafter accept coupons issued by him instead of cash. Coupons of the value of 5 cents each are sold in sets of 20 for $1.00. Address order to Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office.

No charge is made for postage on documents forwarded to points in United States, Guam, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, or to Canada, Cuba, or Mexico. To other countries the regular rate of postage is charged, and remittances must cover such postage.

Notes of General Interest

The Library of Congress has issued a preliminary catalogue of the American and English genealogies to be found on its shelves. It is a substantial cloth bound volume of several hundred pages and is sold by the Superintendent of Documents at $1.05.

In his annual report for 1910 the president of Howard University, Washington, D. C., says that that is "the only institution where the nation directly touches the education of the negro," but the appropriations for its support "are small compared to those for Indians and Eskimo." The attendance at Howard University for the past year was 1252, coming from 35 States and 12 foreign countries.

The official Congressional directory for the 3d session of the 61st Congress, 1st edition, is now on sale at 60 cents in cloth. This is the book which contains more information as to the organization and functions of all branches of the Government than can be found in any other single volume.

Another issue in the National Monetary Commission series is Senate document 658, 61st Congress, 3d session, Notes on the postal savings-bank systems of the leading countries. It is a timely work, coming as the United States is just putting in motion its first experiment in the establishment of a postal savings bank system. Sold by the Superintendent of Documents at 25 cents.

Farmers' bulletin 414, Corn cultivation, supersedes Farmers' bulletin 199, Corn growing. All numbers in the extensive series known as Farmers' bulletins are sold by the Superintendent of Documents at 5 cents.

Another contribution added to the many heretofore made by the Agriculture Department in the field of domestic economy is Farmers' bulletin 426, Canning peaches on the farm. In it farmers who have a surplus crop of peaches are told how to make more profitable use of them than feeding them to the pigs.

Chemistry Bureau Circular 64, Studies of poultry from the farm to the consumer, is a review of cold storage practice and results, including a suggestive section on the application of scientific data to industrial uses. The author is Miss Mary E. Pennington, chief of the food research laboratory in the Chemistry Bureau, Agriculture Department, a place of responsibility, calling for scientific attainments.

Forest Service Bulletin 83 is not a very large publication, but it covers a great field, its title being The forest resources of the world. The best attainable information is given and a list of the authorities used is appended. It appears that only three countries in the world, Russia, Finland, and Sweden, "can increase their timber export without lessening their forest capital." Still, the comforting conclusion is drawn that "there is enough accessible actual and potential forest land in civilized countries to produce, under proper management, an abundance of timber to supply indefinitely the world's growing demand." The essential need, therefore, is "proper management." Can we get it?

The Governors of Arizona and New Mexico publish their final reports as Territorial governors. Each of these is illustrated by a good map.

The 1910 report of the Governor of Alaska also carries a good map of that land of adventure and golden promise.

Geological Survey Bulletin 430 is Part 1 of Contributions to economic geology, 1909. This is the latest number of a series for which there are always many waiting applicants.

Senate document 645, 61st Congress, 2d session, is Report on condition of woman and child wage-earners in the United States, in 19 volumes; Volume 1, Cotton textile industry. So far as the document number is concerned, this set of 19 volumes may become troublesome. The usage has been that when a Congressional numbered document was published in more than one volume the successive volumes were designated as "parts," volume one being, for instance, Document 645, part 1, and so on. As volume one of the woman and child labor series has not received a part number, the intention apparently is to print the remaining 18 volumes without part numbers, the result being 19 books, all bearing precisely the same document designation. It will not then be possible to designate any particular volume of the 19 by its document number, because Document 645 will mean any one or all of the set. Librarians should make a little note of this, as the document edition of this important report will go to the depositories. Though it has been prepared by the Labor Bureau, it is not an annual or a serial, but a special report prepared in response to an act of Congress approved January 29, 1907, and ordered printed as a document by Senate resolution of June 15, 1910. No provision has yet been made for any other edition.

Senator Brown of Nebraska wrote for the June, 1910, number of the Editorial review an argument favoring the ratification by the States of the proposed income-tax amendment to the Constitution submitted to them by Congress in July, 1909. Senator Brown's argument has now been published as Senate document 705 of the 61st Congress, 3d session, and is sold by the Superintendent of Documents at 5 cents.

Experiment Stations Office Circular 105 contains a list of the names of the lecturers engaged in giving instruction in agricultural science at the farmers' institutes now being numerously held throughout the country. Any one who takes the trouble to count this list of lecturers will find there are over a thousand of them. Quite an army of educators to be abroad in the land teaching the most practical and fundamental of all the sciences.

Mr. Herbert D. Brown, who has been active in the movement to establish a retiring allowance for Government clerks by their own contributions, is the author of a report on Civil-service retirement in New South Wales (Australia) which has been published as Senate document 420, 61st Congress, 2d session. It shows that several retirement plans have been unsuccessfully tried, including a contributive plan. This is the first report issued in compliance with Senate resolution 119, adopted

Jan. 11, 1910, calling for information on foreign and domestic retirement plans for employees in the Government civil service and in the service of industrial and transportation companies. Other reports which are in preparation will relate also to the retirement provisions for public school teachers and other municipal employees and employees of railroads in the United States.

The newly organized Mines Bureau has issued its Bulletin 3, The coke industry of the United States as related to the foundry (5 cents); also Bulletin 5, Washing and coking tests of coal at Denver (10 cents). Bulletin 4 has been announced but not yet received. Its title is Features of producer-gas power-plant development in Europe.

There is a new edition of the Rules of practice in cases before the district land offices, the General Land Office, and the Interior Department. It materially changes the Rules formerly in force in several important respects.

The second edition of the American ephemeris and nautical almanac for 1911 has been received and is now for sale at $1.00 per copy.

The Agriculture Department holds that though oats are the third grain crop of the country, being exceeded in value by only corn and wheat, they are not grown in the United States with the care and success that they might be and should be, and it is consequently undertaking to give the oat culture a boost by publishing two new Farmers' bulletins, no. 420, Oats, distribution and uses, and no. 424, Oats, growing the crop. All the Farmers' bulletins are sold by the Superintendent of Documents at 5 cents a copy to home folks and to Cubans, Mexicans, and Canadians, while buyers in other countries must pay 1 cent more on each copy for postage.

Geological Survey Bulletin 428 has been reprinted as Mines Bureau Bulletin 11.

For the information of librarians it is well to state that certain numbered House documents of the 61st Congress, 3d session, are identical with certain numbers in the Special agents series of the Manufactures Bureau, Commerce and Labor Department. For reasons not known to the Superintendent of Documents, the Special agents series numbers have been omitted from the document prints. Document 1117 is identical with Special agents series 41. Document 1118 is Special agents series 37. Document 1119 is Special agents series 40. Document 1120 is Special agents series 39. Document 1121 is Special agents series 38. Document 1122 is Special agents series 42. It is highly advisable, for readiness of identification and for other reasons which it is not necessary to state here at length, that when numbered publications are issued by Executive offices, and are later made Congressional documents, the original numbers be retained in all cases.

The first bulletin of the Thirteenth census has been issued. It is Bulletin 109 of the permanent Census Bureau, and gives the population of the United States, by States and Territories, as it stood April 15, 1910.

In his annual report for 1910 the Secretary of the Interior makes interesting suggestions as answers to the question "What should be taken away or restored to render the operations of the Interior Department more homogeneous?" He holds that it would have been more logical to consolidate the Interior and Agriculture Departments at the time of the creation of the Commerce and Labor Department (1903), transferring the Patent Office to Commerce and Labor and the Pension Office to the War and Navy Departments. The supervision of the Capitol building he would have transferred to the Supervising Architect's Office, Treasury Department, the supervisory authority over Samoa and Guam to the Insular Affairs Bureau, War Department, and all local eleemosynary institutions, now reporting to the Secretary of the Interior, to the District of Columbia Commissioners, along with all other local interests. Under the existing system, says Secretary Ballinger, there is duplicated effort, as in the case of the divided jurisdiction of the Interior and Agriculture Departments over national forests, while the Mines Bureau, Interior Department, and the Standards Bureau, Commerce and Labor Department, deal with similar subjects.

Plant Industry Bureau issued during December three new bulletins, all reporting the results of scientific research on important subjects of inquiry. Bulletin 196 has for title Breeding drought-resistant forage plants for the Great Plains area; 199, Determination of deterioration of maize, with incidental reference to pellagra; 200, Breeding new types of Egyptian cotton. Though this is the land of cotton, we import $12,000,000 worth of Egyptian cotton annually. The Bureau is showing how to grow this at home.

The First Assistant Postmaster-General in his 1910 annual report notes two instances in which the Government is unjust to post-office employees injured in the line of duty. If a carrier out collecting mail is knocked over and killed or incapacitated by an auto, his pay ceases the minute his head strikes the pavement. The principle of employers' liability has not been made applicable to post-office employees. The other case is the law of June 25, 1910, which prevents a Government employee recovering pay for the unauthorized use of his patented invention by the Government. The report points out that this provision seems to destroy any incentive to employees to perfect devices to facilitate postal operations. The use of labor-saving devices is the source of incalculable saving to the Post-Office Department, and the First Assistant asks an appropriation of $10,000 to be used in rewarding postal employees who devise apparatus or methods that prove of value.

The Library of Congress is not the largest library in the world, but it is exceeded only by the Library of the British Museum and the National Library of France. As shown by the 1910 report of the Librarian, the contents of the Library of Congress, July 1, 1910, were: Books and pamphlets, 1,793,158; maps, 118,165; music, 517,800; prints, 320,251; total, 2,749,374 pieces. The Report of the Librarian, in which is much matter of interest to library and literary people, is sold by the Superintendent of Documents in cloth binding at 40 cents.

ANOTHER NEW SERIES

The Manufactures Bureau has issued Foreign tariff notes, no. 1. It is made up from the material relating to changes in and constructions of the tariff of foreign countries which has been published in the Daily consular and trade reports from July to November, 1910. The bringing together of these scattered notes and reports from consuls and special agents will doubtless be a convenience to many. Other numbers in the Foreign tariff notes series will be published occasionally as material for them may accumulate.

NAVAL MILITIA INSTRUCTION

The Navy Department is actively taking up the training of the naval militia. Under the general title, Publications for the instruction, etc., of the naval militia of the United States, a series of seven textbooks has been issued, as follows: No. 1, Jan. 1, 1910, Instructions for the training of great-gun crews and small-arms marksmen; no. 2, Mar. 31, 1910, How to stand watch, manual for the officer of the deck; no. 3, Apr. 2, 1910, Method of conducting target practice; no. 4, June 30, 1910, Tactical signal book for use by the naval militia; no. 5, July 1, 1910, Uniform regulations; no. 6, July 15, 1910, Naval militia distinguishing flag and pennant; no. 7, to take effect Jan. 1, 1911, Naval militia accounting instructions, with special reference to ships, equipments, and stores.

Of these, no. 7 is the only one received in time for regular entry in the Monthly catalogue, for shipment to the depository libraries, and for sale by the Superintendent of Documents. Price in cloth, 35c. Nos. 1, 3, and 4 are confidential publications. Nos. 1 and 3, or the information in them, may be given to any member of the naval militia, but no. 4 to commissioned officers only.

NAVY YEARBOOK

By act approved June 25, 1910, it was provided that hereafter the Navy yearbook should be prepared and published for every calendar year and "distributed as other public documents," which means, no doubt, that it shall be printed as one of the numbered Congressional documents, the distribution of which is provided for by law. The 1910 number has been issued as Senate document 666 of the 61st Congress, 3d session. It contains the naval appropriation laws beginning with 1883, thus covering the whole period of the origination and construction of the "New Navy." It includes also tables of the tonnage, batteries, personnel, pay, etc., of our own and some foreign navies, marine subsidies of foreign nations, etc., as well as an index. The Sundry civil law of June 25, 1910, also provides for the publication of 6,000 extra copies, bound in cloth and apportioned as follows: Senate, 1,500; House, 3,000; Navy Department, 1,000; Naval Affairs Committees of Senate and House, 500. The language of the law insures the regular annual issue of the Navy yearbook until Congress may choose to take contrary action.

WOODSMAN'S HANDBOOK

Forest Service Bulletin 36 is now for the first time offered for sale, the price being 25 cents. It was first issued in 1902, as Bulletin 36, Part 1. There has never been a Part 2, and Part 1 was so tied up by an arrangement with the owners of copyrighted matter which had been included that it could not be put on sale. These restrictions have now been removed, and a revised and enlarged edition has been issued, including the material which was originally intended to form Part 2. The bulletin is entitled The woodsman's handbook, and the authors are Henry S. Graves, United States Forester, and E. A. Ziegler, Director of Pennsylvania State Forest Academy. It is an authoritative compend of information most essential to lumbermen, foresters, and owners of woodlots. Inability to buy it has been heretofore a serious disappointment to hundreds if not thousands of applicants.

A PROSPERITY BULLETIN

The high cost of living is no exception to the old rule that there are two sides to every story. While all the people are consumers, some of them are also producers. While all pay more, some get more. And there are some whose increased income more than balances their increased outgo. The Secretary of Agriculture knows who the lucky ones are, and in his annual report for 1910 he tells interesting things about them.

He shows that while the average increased cost since 1899 of 85 articles that are bought by farmers is but 12.1 per cent, the increased farm value of ten leading crops is 72.7 per cent. An acre of corn, worth on the farm $8.51 in 1899, is worth this year $15.20, an increase of 78.6 per cent. The similar increase on wheat is 114 per cent, on tobacco 56.2 per cent, on cotton 65.6 per cent. An acre of corn would buy 1.8 barrels of flour in 1899 and 2.4 barrels now, it would buy 118.2 yards of muslin in 1899 and 168.9 yards now. The average purchasing power of all crops has increased in the ten years 83 per cent if spent for oil, 57 per cent if spent for coffee, 30 per cent for flour, 59 for sugar, and so on through the list. Averaging everything, the Secretary finds that the farmer is 54 per cent better off under present conditions than he was under those of 1899.

In the report comparisons are also made of the increase of population in relation to the increase of crop production. It is found that there is certainly an increased production, both in acreage and in the amount per acre, and in a considerable number of the States production is increasing faster than population.

These averages and comparisons are interesting, but the report is packed with other items of equal or greater interest. The work of all the bureaus of the Department is reviewed and each one has a record of valuable results to offer. The vast variety of the work carried on is well set forth, but its great extent precludes any attempt at description of it here. It includes the enforcement of the food and drugs act, the improvement of the blueberry, the breeding of horses for the Army, the manufacture of a serum for hog cholera, plans for the prevention of forest fires, the importation of hardy plants from Siberia and salad plants from Japan, the production of a waterproof oil cement for roads and buildings, the carrying of scientific agricultural teaching to the very door of farmers in all parts of the country, the publication of 25,000,000 pamphlets a year, studies in human nutrition, campaigns against myriads of insect pests, and as many more inquiries and projects for the increase of production and the conservation of the things produced as the force of over 12,000 scientists and employees can devise and carry out.

All finally lead up to the grand result of a crop production for the crop year 1910 of but little less than nine thousand million dollars in value—a greater production than ever reached by any other country in any age of the world's history, and exceeding also any other crop record in our own history. The values stated are values to the farmer, not enhanced by any operations of middlemen.

Again corn is king, with a crop of more than 3,000,000,000 bushels, valued on the farm at a billion and a half dollars. Cotton is second with $900,000,000, hay third at $720,000,000, wheat fourth at $625,000,000, oats fifth, potatoes sixth, sugar seventh, tobacco eighth, barley ninth, flaxseed tenth, rye eleventh, rice twelfth, hops thirteenth. The total production of cereals in bushels is 5,140,896,000.

The 1910 report of the Secretary of Agriculture is a good remedy for the blues. Everybody who has doubts and forebodings as to the country's future should read it and cheer up. The report, in pamphlet form, may be bought from the Superintendent of Documents at 15 cents a copy.

INFORMATION ON THE FINANCES

The Loans and Currency Division of the Treasury Department has issued two pamphlets of financial information which many persons will be glad to have.

The first, called Information respecting money in circulation, is a series of tables showing the total population of the country, the money circulation per capita, the general stock of money in the United States, the amount in the Treasury, and the amount in circulation at the opening of business on July 1 in each of the years beginning with 1860 and ending with 1910. Sale price 5 cents.

The other pamphlet is on the same lines as the former Treasury publications for which there was such general popular demand in 1896, 1897, 1900, 1904, and 1908. It is, however, considerably more complete than the former issues. It is a pamphlet reprint of Treasury Department circular 52, series of 1910, having for title Information respecting United States bonds, paper currency, coin, production of precious metals, etc. The statistics are brought down to July 1, 1910, and are arranged under the following chapter headings: 1, History of U. S. bonds; 2, The sinking fund; 3, History of coins and currency; 4, The national bank currency; 5, Statistics of coinage and production of the precious metals; 6, Government receipts and disbursements; 7, Imports and exports of the United States; 8, Act of March 14, 1900 (gold standard); 9, Act of March 4, 1907 (amending national bank act); 10, Act of May 30, 1908 (amending national bank act); 11, Rulings of the Treasury Department; 12, Act of June 25, 1910 (postal savings banks). The pamphlet has 99 pages and is indexed. Sale price 10 cents.

HEALTH ACTIVITIES

In the October Monthly catalogue mention was made of certain Hearings concerning health activities of the Government before the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce during the 2d session of the 61st Congress, published in seven parts. Since the 3d session convened parts 8 and 9 have been issued. They consist of belated replies from various officials to inquiries sent by the Chairman of the Committee. 5 cents each.

FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

The 24th Annual report of the Commissioner of Labor, that for 1909, is now in press. Its subject and title is Workmen's insurance and compensation systems in Europe. It will be in two volumes, the first of 1375 pages, the second of about 1200 pages. Vol. 1 will describe the systems of Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, and Germany; Vol. 2, those of Great Britain, Italy, Norway, Russia, Spain, and Sweden. A separate chapter from the Report was issued last year in paper covers with the title Laws relating to compensation for industrial accidents in foreign countries. This pamphlet is sold by the Superintendent of Documents for 20 cents. The 24th Report will also be sold by him, but the price is not yet fixed.

The Education Bureau will soon issue Bulletin 5, series of 1910, subject, American schoolhouses. It will treat especially of schoolhouse construction and it is believed will prove to be of widespread practical value.

Though Part 2 of Ethnology Bureau Bulletin no. 30, Handbook of American Indians, is not, at the moment of writing, ready for distribution, a revised edition of the entire work is already in contemplation, but of course the production of a work of such magnitude is not a matter of the immediate future. The second and concluding part of the Handbook of American Indians north of Mexico, containing the titles found in the last half of the alphabet, has had its publication date so often fixed, only to be followed by disappointment, that the Superintendent of Documents has for nearly a year past felt it unsafe to make any prediction on the subject and has carefully refrained from giving to his hundreds of inquiring correspondents any promises. Now, however, the end of the great work for which so large a constituency is waiting is fairly in sight. It is all in type, all but the last signature in plate, all the earlier signatures printed, and the last signature very nearly ready for press. In fact, by the time this Monthly catalogue is in the hands of the reader, the conclusion of the Handbook may be ready for delivery. That there will be no lagging about it is assured by the fact that a large number of officials, as well as unofficial citizens, are eagerly awaiting its publication.

In his annual report (1910) the Librarian of Congress recorded his expectation that the second volume of the Index analysis of the Federal statutes would be ready for delivery by January 1, 1911. This expectation will not be fully realized. Though the work is far advanced, all of the galley proofs and a good share of the page proofs having been read, it may be February 1 before the completed book will be in stock. In assuming this date a good margin of safety is allowed.

The long-expected Manual for army cooks, better known to the multitude as the Army cook-book, is out of press and in the hands of the binders. The one who reads this note may consider himself thus advised that the new cook-book is on the market. It has been prepared by a board of commissary officers for the use of the regular Army and for the organized militia as well. It has 22 illustrations and 185 pages of text, of which 18 pages are filled with definitions of the various names of food ingredients and 77 pages with recipes. The other pages are given up to menus, descriptions of fireless cookers, field ovens, and other equipment, schemes of supply for 10 men and for 60 men, and other related information, concluding with a full index. What Uncle Sam has devised with so much care for his soldiers many peace-loving citizens think good enough for themselves, and there will doubtless be an active inquiry for the new cook-book as there have been for earlier editions under the same title. Sold by the Superintendent of Documents at 50 cents in strong fabricoid binding.

Topographic sheets

NOTE.—The Geological Survey is making a topographic map of the United States. The sheets of which it is composed are projected without reference to political divisions, and are designated by some prominent town or natural feature found on them. Three scales are ordinarily used, 1:62,500, 1:125,000, and 1:250,000. These correspond, approximately, to 1 mile, 2 miles, and 4 miles to 1 linear inch, covering, respectively, average areas of 230, 920, and 3,700 square miles. For some areas of particular importance special large-scale maps are published. The size, unless otherwise given, is about 17.5 inches in height by 11.5 to 16 inches in width, exclusive of the margin, the width varying with the latitude. A description of the topographic map is printed on the reverse of each sheet.

More than one-third of the area of the country, excluding outlying possessions, has been mapped, every State being represented. Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, and the District of Columbia are completely mapped. Sheets of the regular size are sold by the Survey at 5c. each; but in lots of 100 or more copies, whether of the same sheet or of different sheets, the price is 3c. each. In no case can orders be filled at the wholesale rate unless the sum remitted solely for topographic maps amounts to at least $3.00.

NOTE.—Since February, 1908, the Topographer has been preparing rural-delivery maps of counties in which rural-delivery is completely established. They are published in two forms, one giving rural free delivery routes starting from a single given post-office, the other the rural free delivery routes of an entire county. A uniform scale of 1 inch to 1 mile is used. The maps are drawings on tracing linen, and copies are reproduced by the sun-print process. Editions are not issued, but sun-print copies may be obtained at 50c. a copy for the county maps, and 10c. a copy for the maps giving routes starting from a single post-office, from the Disbursing Clerk, Post-office Department. These maps should not be confused with the post route maps for which see Monthly catalogue for January, 1910, page 351.
